

VOTE TO PROTECT YOUR HOME AND YOUR BUSINESS INTERESTS

Of all the issues in the present campaign, the two of outstanding importance to the voters of this country are the LEAGUE OF NATIONS and THE PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS. Nothing should be permitted to obscure these issues, and nothing should be allowed to prevent your voting on November 2nd for your own best interest.

The Wilson League of Nations is a League of War

Article X, which President Wilson calls "the heart of the league," reads:

"The members of the league (of nations) undertake to respect and preserve, as against external aggression, the territorial integrity and existing independence of all members of the league. In case of any such aggression, or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression, the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled."

President Wilson said of Article X in a Paris speech: "If the world should be troubled again, if the conditions which we all regard as fundamental are challenged the guaranty which will be given (in the league covenant) will pledge that the United States will send its armies and fleet across the ocean."

The president is quoted in the transcript furnished by him as having said:

"We must not close our eyes to the fact that in the last analysis the military and naval strength of the great powers will be the final guaranty of world peace."

In presenting the original draft of the treaty to the peace conference, President Wilson said:

"Armed force is the background in this program, but it is in the background; and if the moral force of the world will not suffice, the physical force of the world shall."

In an interview with the London Times, President Wilson said:

"Under the league of nations there will be no neutrals; they will all be in the league and subject to the league's decisions on the matter of the exertion of armed force."

Lloyd George said, in the house of commons:

"Had the league been in existence in 1914, America would have been in the first day of the war, instead of two years after."

Senator Gore says:

"Article X is a mortgage on the body and blood, a first lien upon the life of every American boy beneath the American flag."

Are you willing that we should enter the Smuts-Wilson league, which gives the British empire six votes to our one? Are you willing to guarantee every foot of British territory? Are you willing that we should enter a league in which Liberia and Haiti and Hedjaz and Slam each should have voting power equal to America? Are you willing to sacrifice the Monroe doctrine? Do you wish our country to enter a league which assumes supervision over traffic in women and children and opium and other drugs?

Shall We Break Faith With These?

Here are expressions from some of the greatest statesmen that America has produced, including every democratic president since the republic was founded:

George Washington: "It is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world."

John Adams: "We ought not to involve ourselves in the political system of Europe, but keep ourselves always distinct and separate from it."

Thomas Jefferson: "I am decidedly of the opinion that we should take no part in European quarrels, but cultivate peace and commerce with all."

James Madison: "A steady regard for the true interests of the United States equally avoids an abandonment of their just demands and a connection of their fortunes with the systems of other powers."

James Monroe: "Our policy in regard to Europe is not to interfere in the international concerns of any of its powers; to consider the government de facto the legitimate government for us; to cultivate friendly relations with it, and to preserve those relations by a frank, firm, and manly policy, meeting in all instances, the just claims of every power, submitting to injuries from none."

John Quincy Adams: "The period which Washington predicted has arrived; America has a set of primary interests which have none or a remote interest to Europe; the interference of Europe, therefore, in those concerns should be spontaneously withheld by her upon the same principle that we have never interfered with hers."

Andrew Jackson: "A strict adherence to this policy (to cultivate free commerce and honest friendship with all nations, but to make entangling alliances with none, has kept us aloof from the perplexing questions that now agitate the European world and have more than once deluged those countries in blood."

Martin Van Buren: "We have faithfully sustained the foreign policy with which the United States, under the guidance of their first president, took their stand in the family of nations."

John Tyler: "Carefully abstaining from interference in all questions exclusively referring themselves to the political interests of Europe, we may be permitted to hope an equal exemption from the interference of European governments in what relates to the states of the American continent."

James K. Polk: "Our country stands higher in the respect of the world than at any former period. To continue this proud position it is only necessary to preserve peace and faithfully adhere to the fundamental principle of our foreign policy of non-interference in the domestic concerns of other nations."

Millard Fillmore: "It has been the uniform policy of this government from its foundation to abstain from all interference in the domestic affairs of other nations."

Franklin Pierce: "The wise theory of this government, so early adopted and steadily pursued, of avoiding all entangling alliances, has hitherto exempted it from many complications in which it would otherwise become involved."

James Buchanan: "To avoid entangling alliances has been a maxim of our policy ever since the days of Washington, and its wisdom no one will dispute."

Grover Cleveland: "Maintaining, as I do, the tenants of a line of precedents from Washington's day, which prescribe entangling alliances with foreign states, I do not favor a policy of acquisition of new and distinct territory or the incorporation of remote interests with our own."

Woodrow Wilson: "America has a right to her own self-determined life. Washington saw it when he wrote his farewell address. It was not merely brush of passing and transient circumstances that Washington said in his farewell address we must keep free from entangling alliances. It was because he saw that no country had yet set its face in the same direction in which America had set its face. We cannot form alliances with those who are not going our way and in our might and majesty and in the confidence and definiteness of our own purpose we need not and we should not form alliances with any nation in the world."—From an address May 16, 1916, at the unveiling of monument to Commodore Barry.

The Wilson Administration Has Demoralized Markets for Farmers

The present condition of the markets for farm products which is spelling ruin for so many farmers, is directly traceable to the neglect, incompetency, and maladministration at Washington.

The Underwood tariff bill, the operations of which were suspended during the war, is getting in its work.

For the first eight months of this year, the IMPORTS of foodstuffs into the United States exceeded the EXPORTS of foodstuffs. Instead of our feeding the world, the rest of the world is helping to feed us. Canadian wheat is coming across the border free of duty. Australian wool and mutton has ruined the market for the home product. The importation of vegetable oils has increased 160 per cent in the last year. For the first time in many years the removal of protective tariff from farm products has brought our farmers in competition with other parts of the world.

The market for cattle and hogs is such that stock men are suffering great losses.

During the war the demand for foodstuffs and other products was so great that there was no danger of importations affecting home markets, but two years after the war ended, with other countries getting back nearer to normal conditions as to production, we are beginning to reap the results of tariff tinkering.

The federal reserve board has refused to extend credits so that farmers might be enabled to hold their crops. The secretary of the treasury has stated that he would do nothing to help keep up "fictitious" prices for products. Liquidation of farmers' paper in the banks is being demanded, and this will force the sale of wheat and cotton and livestock, regardless of the condition of the market. There is on the part of the Wilson administration, a lack of sympathy for the farming interests of the country that prevents helpful action.

The Drop in the Price of Cotton

The condition of the cotton market is particularly ruinous. The crops made with high-priced labor will not, at present prices, bring the cost of production.

Six weeks ago the Democratic speakers were appealing for the vote of the farmers by calling attention to the high prices of farm products and claiming that these prices were the result of the efforts of the Democratic administration at Washington. "Look at the price of cotton now," they said, "and remember what you were getting under a Republican administration, eight years ago."

But in the past few weeks there has been an awful drop in the price of cotton. We still have the Democratic administration at Washington. The Republican congress has not been in session since June, so it cannot be blamed for what has happened to the cotton market. If the Wilson administration was responsible for thirty-cent cotton six weeks ago, it must be responsible for seventeen-cent cotton now. The change in the cotton market has stopped the Democratic speakers boasting and started them to explaining.

The Georgia division of the American Cotton Association, on Oct. 16, adopted a resolution demanding that the president remove from office Secretary of the Treasury Houston, because of his "persistently unfriendly attitude towards agriculture," and asserting that "he started the raid on cotton in September, 1918, with an interview declaring that 25 cents a pound was a fair price for cotton, when it was selling at 38 cents; that his well-known unfriendly attitude towards agricultural interests while he was secretary of agriculture, caused the farmers of the country to object strenuously to his appointment as secretary of the treasury, but these objections were disregarded by President Wilson; that since his appointment as head of the treasury department he has continued his unfriendly attitude toward agriculture by issuing statements and propaganda to reduce the price of farm products and has continued this propaganda so persistently and effectively that the price of cotton and other agricultural products had declined below the cost of production, thereby causing the loss of millions of dollars to the farmers of the United States."

There you have the real reason, not from a Democratic candidate, but from the cotton growers of the good old Democratic state of Georgia. It is the Wilson administration which keeps Houston in the position that enables him to cause this great loss to the farmers.

Vote for Harding and Coolidge

Your interest as a patriot, your interest as a voter, your interest as a citizen, your interest in the future of your country, combine to require the retirement of the party now in charge of our national government.

Your interests require a president who is more concerned with his prosperity and contentment of our own country than he is with regulating the affairs of the universe.

If you help to elect Harding you may be sure that he will not tolerate the practices of the present secretary of the treasury and the federal reserve board which have brought disaster to Oklahoma farmers.

VOTE FOR HARRELD FOR SENATOR

In a time like this you cannot afford to have a rubber-stamp senator. You cannot afford to have a man who absented himself from his duties in congress for five months, neglecting your interests while he made campaign speeches proclaiming that he approved everything that President Wilson had done and all that he would do in the future. You want a man who stands for America first, who believes in keeping our boys out of the wars that vex Europe, and who believes in protection for our home markets.

A change in the White House at Washington is imperative. You demand this change in the interests of your overburdened life, your overtaxed purse, your over-anxious mind.

You know how the present administration has wiggled and wobbled, has meddled and muddled.

You know how doubly hard it has been to meet the demands upon your family purse.

Yours has been one constant struggle trying to pay big bills with little dollars.

VOTE FOR PRINGEY FOR CONGRESS

See that your representation in the lower house of congress is in harmony with the principle of protecting American agriculture. Vote for a candidate who has the courage to denounce the infamous attempt to surrender American sovereignty to an European tribunal. Vote for a man who stands for a domestic policy that is for the strengthening of all the elements which keep life on a high plane. Vote for one who believes in the Roosevelt doctrine of the fair deal. Have a congressman who will help Harding.

THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES OPPOSE THE WILSON LEAGUE, AND THEIR OPPONENTS FAVOR IT. THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEES OPPOSE THE POLICIES OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION, WHICH HAVE BROUGHT DISASTER TO THE FARMERS, AND THEIR OPPONENTS DEFEND THE WILSON REGIME.

THE ISSUE IS CLEAR-CUT. YOU CAN EXPRESS YOUR SENTIMENTS ON THESE GREAT ISSUES BY YOUR CHOICE OF THE CANDIDATES FOR WHOM YOU VOTE. IF YOU WANT TO PRESERVE THE INDEPENDENCE UNDER WHICH OUR COUNTRY HAS PROSPERED AND BEEN A POWER FOR GOOD IN THE WORLD, IF YOU WANT TO STOP EXTRAVAGANCE AND INEFFICIENCY AND RETORE THE GOVERNMENT TO A SOUND BUSINESS BASIS THAT WILL INSURE PROSPERITY—

WHAT BIG COAL STRIKE MEANS

Whiting Williams Just Back From British Mines Tells Story.

Just back from working in English coal mines to find out first-hand what the working-man in England thinks, Whiting Williams, steel company labor expert and author, tells today what the great coal strike means. Williams won national fame last year by quitting his white collar job as a steel company official and going to work in eastern steel plants as an unskilled worker. He worked and lived with the lowest paid workers and learned how they felt and what they thought. Newspaper and magazine articles, a book and many public addresses, attracting national attention. Last summer Williams, a former college professor, went to England and repeated his American exploits. He has just returned to America. He worked in English coal mines. Therefore the following article is the first and freshest work on the English coal strike brought to America by an American.

By Whiting Williams.
Author of "What's On the Worker's Mind?"

"Mr. Chairman and Fellow Workmen! Mr. Chairman and Fellow Workmen!"

No one could ever forget the dead earnestness of that appeal to our attention and good-will there in the union meetings of the little South Wales town, as one miner after another arose to add his voice and vote against or for the strike.

Mostly for.

The two days' strike which resulted was only a local one, but it was engineered and accomplished by men who openly proclaimed themselves devoted to the raising of the red flag of Bolshevism over the house of parliament. Welsh enough they were and not Russian, but they claimed to be in touch with secret London representatives of the soviet, who gave them the real information that nowhere else in the world were conditions for the workman so favorable as in the land ruled from Moscow.

"These Bolsheviks" ere be over proud of themselves and their wild extremes," a middle of the road miner said to me as we walked together thru the darkness the two miles up hill and down dale that led from the shaft to our locations "at the Race."

"But after all they do be the mouthpiece of the wool crowd of us that be fat on 'appy."

Could Hear Strike Talk.

This unhappiness it was easy to see even in the thick darkness of the headings 900 feet away from sunlight. As he brought down the coal from the bulging seam and I carried it in my "curlin' box" to the "tram" or car, we could hear the others colliers or "hewers" in the next stall trying to persuade their friends not to work or else discussing the cardinal points of their new industrial and political faith.

Whether they worked or not the minimum wage law, in effect since 1912, would bring them practically the same pay as the haulers and other "day workers" who put in a strenuous turn.

Now the roof of the industrial house of Britain is quivering with the shout of its 1,200,000 miners as they lay down their picks and shovels.

Luckily not all British miners are as extreme as my Welsh buddies. Up in Yorkshire, for instance where the coal "tips" rise alongside the church spires to grace the landscape or pleasant hedge-lined fields and meadows, they voted against the nationwide strike.

Meanwhile, the strike is not against the owners of the mines, but against the government, which has been in control of them since the days of the war. The union leaders, Smillie and Hodges, claimed that the government fixed prices gave both the government and the owners too much profit and so demanded a reduction of 14 shillings trippence per ton to the domestic consumers as a means of lowering the cost of living.

But this claim was abandoned some weeks ago. Since then they have refused to submit to arbitration the matter of the rightness of their claim and to two shippings more pay per day. In spite, too, of a constantly falling output of coal per man, they refused to consider any plan for increased pay to follow increased coal. Hence the strike.

Bitter Towards Government.

It remains to be seen whether a strike thus against a government can avoid becoming a revolution. It is highly doubtful. Last summer I found men more bitter towards their government for not giving them the kind of jobs they wanted than I have ever seen here against their private employers. That spirit can make serious trouble in a country which will of course, be brought to a standstill by the lack of what they call "coals."

But if representatives government means anything the probability is that a way out will be found short of any fatal overturn. For, while the other unions publicly

DEFEAT OF PET IN GREAT MATCH RACE GRIEVES PRETTY DAUGHTER OF OWNER

Miss Hylda Ross.

Perhaps the most ardent admirer of Sir Barton, famous thoroughbred, is Miss Hylda Ross, daughter of the horse's owner, Commander J. K. L. Ross. She has made the great racer her pet. Consequently Sir Barton's recent defeat by Man o' War in the $75,000 match race at Windsor, Canada, was a great disappointment to her.

voted complete approval of the miners' stand, they were all privately praying that the fearful crisis would not come.

Individually I found most of the workers of the country undecided about nationalizing the mines—even among the miners themselves there would usually be representatives of the pro and con in any group, and few workers were for stopping their own jobs on the railway or in the mills simply to give two "bob" a turn more to men who they felt were already well paid with a guaranteed minimum larger than the generality of themselves.

FURTHER RIOTS REPORTED FROM BELFAST TODAY

By the Associated Press

BELFAST, Oct. 26. — Further rioting occurred in this city last night. Large crowds burned effigies of Terence MacSwiney, the late lord mayor of Cork, in a street in the Stanhope section of the city and a party was mistaking the effigies of Lord George, started exchanges with men burning effigies. A fight was soon going on and the police being powerless to quell the disorder, the troops were summoned. Several shots were fired by the soldiers and order was soon restored.

John McLeod was shot and instantly killed yesterday during a fight caused by the display of Sinn Fein flags.

CITIZENS RAID CITY VICE DIVES

Okmulgee Folks Organize In Posse and Make Wide Sweep.

OKMULGEE.—Fifteen of Okmulgee's leading business men, bearing commissions as special deputy sheriffs, acted upon the demands of a citizen's mass meeting last week and staged a series of raids in the negro section of the city. They arrested eight negroes as proprietors of alleged disorderly houses, confiscated more than 100 gallons of choc and corn whiskey and visited 30 places where it was alleged liquor was being sold and the law violated.

Nothing quite as spectacular was ever before staged in Oklahoma. The special deputies, acting under the direction of Sheriff Henry S. Tucker, inaugurated the raid in response to a demand for a general cleanup of the city following a series of assaults upon white women.

Leaders of the civic movement which prompted today's raids declare recent lawlessness can be attributed to liquor selling, which, they charge, has been going on without restraint. The city police department has been attacked in mass meetings in which the demand for law enforcement has been the chief issue.

More Ballots Sent Out.
By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY.—A consignment of 5,000 additional ballots was sent to Garfield county by the state election board, according to H. C. McAllister, secretary of the board. Fifteen thousand ballots already had been supplied to the county, he said, but a complaint was received that the number was not sufficient. The county's heaviest vote in recent years, according to the secretary was slightly more than 6,000.

THE TOWN GOSSIP

Ada, Okla., Oct. 27, 1920.
Editor Town Gossip:—I'm a married man and I've got two children. One of them is eight years old and the other is ten. After supper they always get me to read The Town Gossip to them. When I'm through reading they ask me to explain it. That's where I'm stumped. How do you explain your stuff anyway?

PUZZLED FATHER.

DEAR PUZZLED father.

THERE ARE a lot of things.
IN THIS old world.

THAT DEFY explanation:

AND WHY is it.

THAT JOHN Crawford.

HAS A HEAD full of hair.

AND JUDGE Galbraith hasn't?

AND THEN again.

WHY is it.

THAT BILL Coffman.

WEIGHS ABOUT 250 pounds.

AND LOWERY Harrel.

WEIGHS ABOUT 105?

AND FURTHERMORE.

WHY is it

THAT A two-year-old cow.

CAN'T WALK a tight rope?

AND I sympathize with you.

WHEN YOU try to explain.

TO YOUR trusting children.

WHAT SOME of this stuff.

REALLY MEANS.

AND I don't blame you.

FOR GETTING stumped.

BECAUSE there's some of it.

THAT MAY have sense.

BUT THERE'S a lot of it.

THAT HAS absolutely none.

AND THE only solution.

TO THE problem.

IS TO tell them.

THAT YOU don't know.

WHAT IT'S all about.

BUT THAT you believe.

THERE'S A puzzle to it.

OR SOMETHING.

AND THEN go ahead.

AND LET 'em figure it out.

FOR THEMSELVES.

AND IT sort of reminds me:

OF HARMON Ebey.

TRYING TO train his bird dog.

AND HE told Joe Cole.

THAT HE couldn't.

TEACH THE dog a thing.

AND JOE told him.

"IT ISN'T at all surprising.

"BECAUSE YOU see.

"YOU'VE GOT to know more

"THAN THE dog does"

AND IT took Harmon two days.

TO FIGURE out.

WHAT HE meant by it.

I THANK YOU.

FARMERS FACE RUIN LEADER NOW DECLARES

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Delegates to a farmers conference here, who are supporting a crop holding movement, said today they hoped a policy committee, named at the opening session of the meeting this morning, would outline a program for some such movement. They declared that they were convinced that in view of the announcement of the federal reserve board, the farmers could not hope for aid from the government, others attending the meeting expressed the view that congress might be called upon to assist the farmer, who declared many of them faced ruin unless they can secure sufficient credit to tide them over the present period of prices for farm products.

HDA IS APPLAUDED BY MANY GOTHAMITES

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—If Ada had ears to hear as far as New York, Ada would have been compelled to make its prettiest bow to giddy Gotham on Saturday night and say, "Thanks for your kind applause."

The occasion was the last night of the San Carlo Grand Opera company's season at the Manhattan Opera House. In response to the great auditorium was packed with the largest audience that this famous edifice has held since the triumphant days of the Oscar Hammerstein regime. Indeed there were many present who felt that those halcyon days had come again. Fortune Gallo, impresario of the San Carlo company, was called before the curtain to thank the patrons of his season for their generous support and appreciation.

And this was where Ada was introduced to many New Yorkers whose "farthest west" in American geography is Jersey City. In acknowledging, Mr. Gallo expressed for himself and the company the gratification which the whole-hearted recognition of the San Carlo Grand Opera company has received from the press and public of New York. This recognition, he admitted, has been won by years of earnest effort.

"We are happy to have won this testimonial from New York," said

Mr. Gallo, "but we are not forgetting that it has been the loyal support of other cities—some of them cities which you might not know where to place them on the map—that has made the San Carlo company a national institution. Every year for the past ten years we have traversed from coast to coast.

"As I stepped on this stage, I just received this telegram," and the impresario held up a yellow slip of paper. "It is from Manager McSwain of the McSwain Theater in Ada, Oklahoma. Perhaps you have never been in Ada, Oklahoma." "Never heard of it," said one informal New Yorker. "No," continued Gallo, "but Ada has heard of the San Carlo company. Manager McSwain wires me that the house will be entirely sold when we play

VOTING HER STRAIGHT

In this issue of the Weekly News appears an advertisement paid for by the republican campaign committee of Pontotoc County. It was furnished by that committee, accepted as paid advertising, and run as paid advertising. A disposition of fairness to the opposition would require us to run this matter even though a strict construction of the postal laws did not require us to accept it.

In this last appeal to the voters the republican organization abandons its appeal to vote "for the man" and urges all republicans everywhere to vote the Republican ticket straight. They appeal for support for Harding and Harreld and Pringle and all the rest of the republican nominees. Their appeal for Pringle is an appeal to defeat Tom McKeown. Thus Partisanship asserts itself in an appeal to the voters to defeat one of the best men that ever ran for office in Oklahoma. They have been urging democrats to support some of the republican county nominees, claiming that those nominees are better men than their democratic opponents. They now urge all republicans to vote against Tom McKeown just because he is a democrat, and not because he is not a better man than his opponent.

In their farewell address to the voters the republican leaders repeat the hoary chestnut that in the league covenant the British empire has six votes and the United States has only one. Concerning this exploded canard the leading republican candidate in Oklahoma, Mr. Harreld, said in his speech at Lawton, October 4:

"There are many other things I might say about the league of nations. I might say that in the league Great Britain has six votes and the United States one. I notice that when Mr. Cox spoke in the city the other day he had himself asked this question: 'Would Great Britain have more votes in the league than the United States?' I suppose that question was asked for a purpose. As the council is constituted Great Britain would have only one and the United States only one."

Thus the local republicans deny the statement of their leader and their leader denies the statement of the local republicans. One of them is speaking the truth and the other is not. It is reasonable to assume that a member of congress who is running for the senate and has spoken on the league in nearly every county of Oklahoma is in a better position to know what the covenant provides than local leaders who have never read the covenant unless they have read a copy furnished by the democratic organization or the democratic press.

The republican campaign book of 1920 does not contain a line of the league covenant. Many republican speakers in Oklahoma have secured a copy of the covenant from democratic headquarters in Oklahoma City. Their own organization failed or refused to furnish them copies of the covenant, until the democrats had printed hundreds of thousands of copies for the voters. The voter may draw his own conclusions from the persistent efforts of the republicans to keep the people from reading the covenant. It is not the fault of local republican leaders that in their last appeal they misrepresent the covenant. Their own national organization has studiously contrived to keep them in ignorance of what the covenant contains.

The republican valedictory also contains an attack on the national administration for the present low price of cotton. This is a wonderful change in tactics since the 26th of last July when Senator Harding's own newspaper, the Marion Star, published an appeal from Senator Capper to elect a republican administration to put cotton back to pre-war prices.

WHAT LAW DO YOU MEAN, SENATOR?

In response to a published question Senator Harding said in his Oklahoma City speech that he favors equality of negroes "before the law." Immediately his supporters said his position is a wise and just one and can be challenged by no good citizen.

Perhaps so, senator, but what law do you mean? Here in Oklahoma we have the Jim Crow law. We also have the separate school law. In addition to these we have a law prohibiting the intermarriage of whites and negroes. Are these the laws you have in mind, senator, when you say the negro should have equality before the law? Or what laws do you have in mind? There are so many laws, senator.

The Daily Oklahoman is liable to get a full grown libel suit on its hands for running the picture of those two negroes who are on the republican ticket in Oklahoma County. While they probably care very little for being negroes, they may raise Cain for being advertised as republicans.

Mr. Harreld was in congress only a short time but he was there long enough to vote against a resolution unseating Victor Berger and against another resolution making the birthday of Abraham Lincoln a legal holiday. That record speaks for itself and he who reads may understand it.

St. Joseph News-Press: In the event of Senator Harding's election as president, he is expected to appoint Major General Leonard Wood to the position of secretary of war.

Oklahoma Federationist: Senator Harding wants to go "back" and back to a "normalcy," defined in the terms of profiteers, anti-labor employers and great interests whose plundering is always curbed by progress.

St. Joseph News-Press: There are seven candidates for the presidency: Cox, democrat; Harding, republican; Debs, socialist; Christensen, farmer-labor; Watkins, prohibition; Cox, socialist-labor, and McCauley, single tax.

Decorations of Bank Building Are Completed

The Harris Wall Paper and Paint company have just finished one of the most up-to-date jobs of decorating in the city of Ada. It is the decorating of the new Security State bank building on East Main street. The walls are painted a heavy steel gray to match the tile on the floor. The border is designed to match the floor border. The ceiling is a cream gray with decorative moldings. The lobby is decorated on the same plan as the inner room and a very classy appearance is the result.

The plan of decorating was left entirely to the paint company and the work speaks well for them. This is one of the best decorated business houses in the city and adds greatly to the general appearance of the buildings on that street.

Wetumka and Ada To Meet In Game This Afternoon

The Ada high school football team is billed to play the high school team from Wetumka this afternoon. Both teams are in good condition for the game and, as they are about equally matched, the game promises to be a hard-fought one. The game will be played on the high school grounds here. The high school is in high spirits and have confidence of their team winning. The Ada boys defeated Coalgate last week in an 81 to 0 game.

HARRELD DUCKED FROM ADA EDITOR

Daily Oklahoman:
"The republicans are telling that Luther Harrison, state senator from Ada, was called off the stump because of a criticism of his speech at Muskogee by the Muskogee Phoenix," said Judge Thomas H. Owen, vice chairman of the state democratic campaign committee yesterday. "Senator Harrison was assigned to follow J. W. Harreld in eastern Oklahoma and he made it so hot for the republican nominee that Harreld cancelled his dates and jumped into new territory. Harrison is one of our best campaigners and the only reason he is in Pontotoc county today is because he asked us to assign him to his home territory, Hughes and Pontotoc counties, for the final week of the campaign."

"My husband is so jealous." "How absurd!" "Why, isn't yours?" "Of course not." "How humiliating!"—Boston Transcript.

HAMON SENT CHECK TO WRONG EDITOR

COLLINSVILLE, Oct. 29.—Jake Hamon, millionaire of Ardmore and republican national committeeman, evidently got his wires crossed in dishing out the share of the slush fund of the republican party allotted to Oklahoma when he sent a check for $100 to Editor W. L. Wright of the Collinsville News for Wright's support of Senator Harding in his newspaper. The check and the letter have created a big sensation here, where both have been posted in the window of the News office and Mr. Wright is as "mad as a wet hen."

Apparently from his letter Hamon mistook the News for a republican paper but the mistake seems almost unpardonable, because it has been a democratic paper since 1899, according to the editor, C. H. Wright, a son of W. L. Wright.

Urging in his letter that Mr. Wright use the News to help elect Harding and all the state ticket with him, Hamon meekly apologized for not being able to do more handsomely by the newspaper man than to send $100 to him. "It's a large state, you know, and I am trying to help everywhere that I can."

Undoubtedly Jake is doing the best he can and if the $100 slice peeled from the big slush fund for Oklahoma for a newspaper in a town the size of Collinsville is to be measured by what the slush fund is doing for the republican papers in the larger cities it must be a big bank roll that was sent down to Oklahoma for distributing to the friendly press.

"Giving Hamon the benefit of the doubt in thinking that my father and I are running a republican newspaper it strongly smacked of bribery to us and clinches the charge of Governor Cox that the republican party is trying to buy the presidency," C. H. Wright declared today. "It seems like Hamon sent his $100 check astray, but we're keeping it as a souvenir of the kind of campaign the desperate republicans are making to carry Oklahoma."

According to a prominent Oklahoma City republican who opposed Hamon in the McGraw-Hamon contest the Ardmore millionaire is ignoring republican state headquarters and is directing a campaign of his own from his Ardmore headquarters.

Democratic leaders have been issued a warning from Oklahoma City to be alert and guard against the corrupt use of the republican slush fund. It is said Hamon intends to spend $25,000 in several heavy democratic counties. An indication of the lavish use of money by the republicans is the fact that although

•Whether the democrats win at the polls,

Or towards the G. O. P. the tide of victory rolls,

Into the false belief we are not allured,

That by either one all evils would be cured.

So, if the Elephant should squeeze within

The White House door, impute it not as sin,

Or, if the Donkey hoofs his way inside,

Let's try to think we are quite satisfied

There will be some hard sledding, anyhow,

Since neither the Elephant nor the Mule

IN SOCIETY

After-School.
When home from school's long day
he drifts
And to my gaze his fresh face lifts
I read the tale of all the joys
And sorrows that are every boy's—
I knew them once, I feel them yet,
Through later living's deeper fret.
But still I hold him close, and say
"Son, tell me all about your day."
He tells me, whimpering o'er each
grief,
And laughing next in sweet relief;
The big, bad boy who hid his hat;
The girl who slipped from where
she sat,
To meet the teacher's well-earned
frown;
And how the littlest boy fell down!
I list—not that I do not know,
But only that I love him so.
When, at life's troublous school days close
Each world-worn pupil homeward goes,
Straight to the Father's eyes we'll raise
Our own, prepared for blame or praise,
He'll slip an arm around and say:
"Child, tell me all about your day."
Not that our Father does not know,
But only that He loves us so.

Elk's Hallowe'en Party.
It is indeed seldom that a social event could be more enjoyable than was the Elks Hallowe'en party and dance given in their handsome club rooms last night. Fully one hundred couples glided about on the polished dance floor to the delighful jazz strains of Schrieber's orchestra. It was the first event to be held in the club since being overhauled and remodelled, and the place presented an appearance pleasing to the eye. Hallowe'en decorations were hung on every side, and all seemed to feel the joyous spirit of the occasion.
The favorite pieces were encored over and over again, and the dancers never seemed to tire.
Many compliments were heard on the beautiful appearance of the club and especially on the women's room which has been fitted up with new and comfortable furnishings and separated from the rest of the club so as to permit the women to drop in at any time to rest and read and chat or powder their noses.

A new spirit seems to have taken possession of Ada Elksdom. All are interested in the welfare of the club and are delighted with the progress being made. Many of the "old crowd" we present last night,
and could hardly believe their eyes
when they saw the improvements that had been made. The club seems to have taken on new life,
and means to make its presence felt in the community.

The next party will be held on November 11, when the Elks are to be hosts to all the American Legion and all former service men who chance to be in Ada on that day. The Elks being patriotic to an American organization, patriotic to the core, are more than anxious to show the boys who followed the flag that their sacrifices are deeply appreciated. The Bills will keep open house for the soldiers, and the party and dance will be held on the night of the 11th.

Chicken Dinner Yesterday Was A Great Success

The chicken dinner given by the members of the Rosedale cemetery association yesterday was a success from every point of view. The total proceeds totaled $103 after the expenses had been paid and will be used to improve the cemetery. Mrs. S. P. Ross and Miss Sallie Fulton were in charge of the dinner and all concerned are highly pleased with the big success. The dinner was given in one of the new buildings being constructed by Mr. Shelton on East Main street and was served from 11:30 to 2 o'clock. During this time about two hundred and fifty people were served. The association wishes to thank the citizens for their support in making it a success.

ADA NOW HAS FIFTEEN OKLAHOMA U. ALUMNI

NORMAN, Oct. 28.—University of Oklahoma alumni are already sending in for reservations for the twenty-eighth annual home coming football game to be played on Boyd field at 2:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, November 6, when the Kansas Jayhawkers fly down to Soonerland to meet Ben G. Owen's Oklahoma cowboys, according to Richard H. Cloyd, secretary of the state university alumni association. One entire section of the bleachers on Boyd field have been reserved for the university alumni, Cloyd states.

Ada now has fifteen alumni of the University of Oklahoma and all of these graduates and other former state university students are already planning on witnessing the home coming game. The alumni will hold their first meeting at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, November 5, followed by Freshman Friday exercises, which start at 3 o'clock. Friday night the "jazz hounds" will entertain the visiting alumni and former students with a minstrel. The kickoff of the Kansas-Oklahoma game will be at 2:30 o'clock sharp, Saturday afternoon, according to Owen.

LOOK FOR CREST OF FLOOD AT OKLAHOMA CITY

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 26.—Only light rain for the most part fell over scattered districts of Oklahoma yesterday and last night, according to reports of precipitation before 7 o'clock to the weather bureau here today. Lawton was the only station reporting an inch of rainfall.

The official weather bureau flood measurement had not been taken here at noon today, although it was reported that the North Canadian river flood stage here had dropped about a foot overnight. A total high water level of 13 feet is expected when the crest of the flood reaches Oklahoma City Saturday night or Sunday, weather bureau officials declare.

Exchange avenue here was under water in many places today, the result of back water from the Canadian in the southern part of the city.

FARM LABOR LEADER CHARGES FRAME-UP

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—J. G. Brown campaign manager of the National Farm Labor party, today issued a statement at party headquarters here, charging that a huge jack pot has appeared in several of the western states, with the object of seeking to buy out the candidates on the Farm Labor ticket. In Iowa the democrats are using every influence to have Harvey Cowles, the farm labor candidate for United States senator, and other liberal candidates, withdrawn from the race in their favor, the statement said.

A GREAT RELIGIOUS MEETING IN ST. LOUIS

By C. V. Dunn.

One of the greatest religious gatherings ever held in this country was held last week in St. Louis. It was the annual international convention of churches of Christ. It was my esteemed privilege, by the kindness of the church of which I am minister, to attend this great gathering. It was an occasion long to be remembered.

Just previous to the convention a four-day congress was held, which was for the purpose of emphasizing the fundamental principles of the religious restoration movement of the nineteenth century—the most far-reaching religious movement perhaps since the days of the apostles. This movement stands committed to the restoration of the teaching and practice of the inspired apostles—the re-establishment of the church as they left it. More will be said about this congress in my sermon Sunday morning and it is hoped that the membership generally will turn out to hear it. It may be safely said that no religious movement for centuries has influenced religious thinking as much as the restoration movement of the nineteenth century has influenced it.

The convention proper lasted six days, and they were days filled to their capacity. Sometimes only a short time would intervene between sessions. This made the convention somewhat strenuous, but did not decrease its value.

The sessions were held in the coliseum. This is said to seat 10,000 people, and I am sure it will seat at least that many. I believe it will seat 15,000. While it was large enough to accommodate the audiences, its acoustics were very bad. One had to get near the speaker's stand or up in the gallery to hear well. About six thousand of more people attended the convention.

The causes of Christian education, Christian benevolence, and Christian missions were presented in many a strong address. Some of these addresses stirred the soul and made one feel that he was up in the third heaven, though what was heard was unlike what the apostle Paul heard when he was in the third heaven in that it is lawful to tell what was heard.

The churches of Christ (some times called Christian churches) support nearly forty educational institutions, most of these being colleges, a few of them being universities. It was pointed out that the youths of our country are coming in ever increasing hosts, to our colleges and universities, both private and public. Practically every college in the United States this September has its building literally crowded to the doors with eager alert young men and women. The colleges are making frantic appeals for increased resources with which to meet these unprecedented demands. The teaching profession has been threatened with annihilation because of high costs and low salaries. There has been a nationwide agitation regarding this critical situation. Magazines and metropolitan families have carried articles and editorials intended to arouse the public conscience to the injustice being done to one of the noblest of professions. All this is a part of the general revival which has been taking place with respect to American Education.

Nearly $2,000,000 has been spent in the work in foreign fields. Work is being carried on in some dozen countries, chiefly in Japan, China, India, Africa, and South America. Foreign missionary work includes both elementary and higher education, evangelism, orphanage work, hospitals, modern methods of farm-

The Fate of Osteopathy Not Involved

In answer to numerous inquiries as to the relation of Osteopathy to State Question No. 94 to be submitted at the election November 2, with reference to Senate Bill III, it may be said that the practice of Osteopathy is now regulated by law and has representation on the State Board of Examiners. This law having been in effect and operating for the past twelve years, it will be readily seen that Senate Bill III, and State Question No. 94 have no reference to Osteopathy. The entrance requirements to a recognized school of Osteopathy is a four year high school diploma or its equivalent. The course in osteopathy consists of four years of nine months each. To practice Osteopathy in the State of Oklahoma the Osteopathic graduate must pass satisfactorily the examination given by the State Board of Examiners.

Senate Bill III, was passed by the legislature of Oklahoma at the 1917 session to regulate the practice of Chiropractic and other unlicensed practitioners by fixing a standard course of study of only three years of nine months each in a chiropractic school, giving the chiropractors representation on the State Board of Examiners and requiring its applicants for license to pass a satisfactory examination in subjects taught in common in all schools the same as applicants of other schools now have to do; each applicant to be examined in his system of practice by a member of his own school.

If you want the Chiropractors to have legal standing and be licensed practitioners, then vote NO on State Question No. 94—but if you want them to remain unlicensed and without recognition before the law, then vote YES on State Question No. 94.

NORTH CANADIAN TO RISE ABOVE FLOOD STAGE

Bottom Lands Near Oklahoma City Are Already Under Water

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 29.—With the North Canadian river standing at 13 feet shortly before noon today, a rise of one and eight-tenths feet within the last 24 hours, it was announced at the weather bureau here that the flood stage of 15 feet would be reached here probably by Saturday noon. The river is already overflowing its banks and bottom lands are under water.

Severance of the main trunk gas line from the Cement field, supplying practically 50 per cent of the gas consumed by Oklahoma and normally carrying 15 million cubic feet, was caused by flood waters of the North Canadian river just west of the packing house district early this morning. The Oklahoma Gas and Electric company announced that unless a cold wave occurred the consumer will be supplied with sufficient gas for cooking purposes, although strictest conservation measures will be employed to insure this supply.

All industrial and heating plants must burn coal, wood or oil. J. F. Owens, general manager of the gas company said in order that the domestic supply may be obtained.

COX BRINGS CAMPAIGN TO HIS HOME STATE

Presidential Nominee Says
He's Fighting for Democratic Victory.

By the Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 29.—Brief reference was made here today by Governor Cox to the speech yesterday of Senator Harding, his republican opponent, at Akron.

"The senator said he wanted a purely partisan campaign," Governor Cox continued. "I'm fighting for a democratic victory. If there was a democratic candidate against the league I'd not only vote against him, but I'd make speeches against him."

The league of nations was the theme of Governor Cox in both addresses here.

Many questions were asked the governor, and all went smoothly until a man interjected:

"Do you know governor, that after November 2, you will be playing pinochle in Dayton?"

There were cries to throw him out, but the governor gave orders against such action, declaring the interjection did not deserve a mention. "You know, there are some home people who do learn manners," said the candidate.

UNBORN CHILD MAY BE ROBBED OF ITS NAME

his work and live the rest of my days in slavery."

Asked if she would consent to having the marriage annulled, she paled at the thought.

Can't Give Him Up.

"No!" she exclaimed, "I won't give him up! Don't you see?—I can't give him up. He is all that I have, and I will do anything rather than go back to the old life."

If the case goes to trial, McDonald and the girl face a term of as much as ten years in the penitentiary unless the case is dismissed on its merits. If the court annuls the marriage, a crime will be committed against the unborn child, and the young mother, unwilling to return to the life of drudgery in which she says she was raised, would be practically helpless and alone in the world, eventually with the child to care for.

The state, in providing against incest, assumes that when first cousins by blood are married, they commit the crime in entering the marriage relationship. It is a known fact that intermarriage between blood relatives tends toward degeneracy in the generation that follows, and it is against this that the law aims in providing against the intermarriage of blood relatives within the degree of first cousins.

May Marry Outside of State.

A couple from this state, however, may go to another state and be married and then return to this state to live without violating the law which can provide only against such marriages being performed in this state. Most of the states in the union provide against incest and the intermarriage of near blood relatives. But each can only prohibit such a marriage within its boundaries.

It is not hard to picture the eagerness with which Viola Gray welcomed the sweet companionship of her cousin. Hers was a life of toil with but few pleasures, and there were so few to say kind things to her and to whisper softly "I love you!" Even in her tender childhood, she had known nothing but toil, toil, toil, from morning till night. There cannot be the pleasures of town life on a farm, and the monotony of getting up before daybreak each morn and working until the sunlight gave place to the shadows was but seldom broken.

It was but natural that she should become devotedly attached to the young man. There was no one else, and he was so kind to her. It was but natural that friendship should ripen into passionate love, and love knows no law.

Would Permit Annulment.

The possibility of being sent to the penitentiary weighs heavily upon McDonald's mind. This is the first time he has ever been in jail. Asked if he would consent to having the marriage annulled, he thought for a moment of his wife being sent to the penitentiary, of being "sent up" himself.

"Yes," he said, "if that will get us out of all this, I'm willing."

McDonald's bond is set at $1,000.

ership, we may carry the policy of the national government forward along the path of liberal legislation and humane reform until the whole world again sees an illustration of the wholesome strength of democracy and the happy fruit of that the founders of the republic proposed when they set this great government up."

The president said he had followed Governor Cox's force through the campaign with admiration and expressed the belief that the governor would receive the emphatic endorsement of the voters of the country.

COX BRINGS CAMPAIGN TO HIS HOME STATE

By the Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 29.—Governor Cox brought his campaign back to his home state today beginning with a morning speech here at the home of E. H. Moore, his pre-convention campaign manager.

The democratic candidate, after his address here, was to speak this afternoon at Kent, Ohio, and tonight at Akron.

SOUNDS NOTE OF OPTIMISM

Trade Revival Bound To Follow Slump, Economist Writes.

Having had our yesterday it were well to take account of the fact that there is a tomorrow.

Yesterday the world bought madly and cried persistently for more. The cost did not matter so much. Everybody had money they wanted to spend.

Today we are begging for buyers to take the surplus of goods that accumulated under the high pressure of yesterday. We speeded up production much more effectively than we knew. Not only the factory answered the call, but the soil responded as well, and we came somewhat into a state of overproduction.

Hand to Mouth Buying.

However, if we do not get as hysterical in our selling as we were in our buying it will not be so many tomorrows before something like a stabilized price condition prevails, and business will resume its course without the ghost of fright stalking at its heels.

Europe is as badly frightened as we and is holding off our falling market in anticipation of still lower prices. The consuming public is virtually buying from hand to mouth. The retail distributor is fearful lest he be caught overstocked in a falling market. The jobber has great difficulty in reducing his surplus. Contract goods come in faster than he can sell. His warehouses are clogged and naturally he is buying with extreme caution.

As for the manufacturer he has been curtailing production for several months, and the indications are that he will still further reduce his output until production cost makes lower selling prices possible, and improves demand.

All along the line from the raw product to the finished goods, there has been a lowering of prices and the process may not be finished, but there can be nothing like a crash of values. Goods produced to meet the exigencies of war may have a big tumble, but as for the remainder we need not fear anything like a serious breakdown in market values.

Europe Needs Our Goods.

Europe needs much from us in the way of manufactured goods for her factories are just getting under way and her producing organization, as a whole, is only a makeshift machine.

As for our foodstuffs Europe must have them, even at a high cost.

It may take some time to work off a lot of our high priced goods, and it will be some days before the business world will get over its fright, but it appears inevitable that the more we look calmly at the tomorrow, the brighter it will appear. There is nothing very wrong with our condition except that we have been going a little too fast. The let-up we are having will soon right matters and a long prosperous season must follow.

Anyone inclined to look upon the near future with pessimistic eyes should reflect that great public works are not projected in every part of the country and are only waiting on the day when prohibitive prices for labor and material are past. Plans for homes and many other kinds of buildings are held in abeyance for the day of reasonable prices and when that day is reached an immense business for producers of raw material and for distribution and profitable employment for wage workers will start.

There is enough business ahead of us to engage our attention and services. We simply are waiting for that tomorrow that will bring about a stabilization of our business affairs.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

CITY MANAGER IN MUSKOGEE TURNS DOWN PAY BOOST

MUSKOGEE, Oct. 28.—After the city council had passed an ordinance raising his salary from $6,000 to $10,000 a year, City Manager R. P. Harrison induced the councilmen to rescind their action and strike the ordinance from the records. Councilmen declared that the measure would be passed later when conditions were more favorable to "pay the city manager what he's worth."

This is only one of the rather unusual actions of City Manager Harrison in the six months since he has taken office.

"We can't afford to put the managerial form of government open to criticism," he declared in declining the $4,000 salary boost. "Wait until we have tried the managerial form of government and the manager for at least a year—and then determine how much he should be paid. Let's postpone any decisive action."

Because the city manager is a republican and several of the councilmen are also of that party, the new government has met much opposition in certain quarters. But the councilmen believe that in Mr. Harrison, former federal court clerk, they have an ideal manager and that the form of government is the best that can be devised for cities.

Some of the accomplishments the managerial form and the new administration can boast of for the first six months of existence include: Moving of offices from old city hall to uptown office building, various departments co-operating and saving money in labor and material; cutting out useless positions;

more efficiency in street and other improvement work by reason of centralized power; bettering garbage disposal system; eliminating waste of various departments and friction between departments; saving in purchases by one purchasing agent for all.

In an effort to safeguard the highways the secretary of New York state has proposed that motorists be licensed and bonded.

WADE PREDICTS DEM. LANDSLIDE

Tom Wade, Just Back from East, Sees a Great Victory.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 27.—"Cox and Roosevelt will carry New York, Ohio and Indiana. Our republican friends and even some of our pessimistic democrats may be inclined to scoff at that prediction, but I make it in all sincerity and confidence that it will be fulfilled November 2." That was the declaration tonight of Tom E. Wade of Marlow, former democratic national committeeman, who returned today from a visit in the east.

"The drift to Cox is astounding. It has assumed the proportions of a landslide," Wade continued. "Independents and pro-league republicans are flocking to Cox's side by the thousands."

"I attribute this in a very large measure to the fact that Cardinal Gibbons has declared emphatically for the league of nations," Wade declared. "In his interview the noted prelate pointed out by inference that the provision of the league that it shall be the friendly right of each member of the league to bring to the attention of the assembly or of the council any circumstances whatever affecting international relations which threaten to disturb international peace or good understanding between nations upon which peace is based will be the means of bringing the Irish question before the court of world opinion."

"I had several talks with Cochran, who is an ardent advocate of Irish freedom," Wade said. "I heard him address a monster meeting in New York. I believe before he started that fully two-thirds of his audience were anti-leaguers, when he had finished his expose of the insidious and poisonous propaganda of misrepresentation of the league which has been sown among Irish voters for over a year by the republican machine, the demonstration was tremendous."

Wade stopped in Chicago and conferred with leaders in the democratic western headquarters. "Fully half of the speakers that Jim McClintic had booked for the last week of the campaign were pro-league republicans and progressives," he said. "The split in the republican ranks in Illinois and Harding's stand for scrapping the league will throw that state into the democratic column."

Wade declared that while the republicans had secured contributions totalling a sum of one hundred per cent larger than that received by the democrats, "our contributions have come from practically ten times as many individual contributors." The sums in most instances have been small, he declared, but the number of contributors, especially women, indicates the widespread interest in the success of Governor Cox.

14 YEARS SINCE YANKEE DOODLE DANDY CAME TO TOWN A'RIDING ON HIS LITTLE PONY

$878,831.24 IS TOTAL DEMOCRATIC RECEIPTS

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Total receipts by the democratic national committee to October 25, for the conduct of the present campaign, amounted to $878,831.24, according to an announcement today by Wilbur W. Marsh, the party's national treasurer.

The sum continues the democratic treasurer's statement, is constituted almost entirely of contributions to the campaign fund, with the exception of $150,000, which was borrowed. Other sources, which aggregated collections of only a few hundred dollars, included the sale of campaign text books, funds from advertising and such small items.

Disbursements by the entire organization, up to the same date as shown by the statement, amount to $823,345.09, with New York bearing by far the heaviest burden, Chicago a sum slightly less than its receipts and San Francisco an expense approximately eight times the amount of funds received. Running the women's bureau for the entire campaign to date cost but $1,339.30, the statement adds.

"Aren't you a lion tamer?" asked the presiding judge in a court of domestic relations. "Yes, your honor," said the little man with a fierce mustache. "And yet you say your wife thrashes you." "Your honor, I've been a trainer of wild animals for twenty years, but I've only had a wife about six months."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

PROCLAMATION

Above a world torn with four long years of war and sorrow, agonized in body and soul from the tortures of prolonged battle, with hearts and homes bleeding from the despotism and relentlessness of autocracy, on the Eleventh Day of November, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eighteen, there was born anew throughout the earth the spirit of hope and peace.

To these United States, which had entered the world struggle that the ideals of justice and truth on which our government has been founded might be preserved with honor, this day marked another milestone in the victory of humanity of Christian virtue against the spirits of evil and destruction. With a burning patriotism and love of freedom, nearly five million of the young men and women of this nation gave their unreserved service that these ideals might be preserved. In battle, on the high seas, and by disease, many thousands of these made the supreme sacrifice for the great cause.

In order that these principles for which we fought may be kept ever before us, and in order that the citizens of this state may in some way pay respect to the bravery and service of these departed patriots and to their comrades-in-arms who have returned to us, I, J. B. A. Robertson, governor of the state of Oklahoma, do hereby set aside and proclaim the Eleventh Day of November, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty as Armistice Day, to be observed as legal holiday in the state of Oklahoma. May this day be spent in loyal commemoration of the deeds of the heroes of our state and in prayer for the future peace, safety and guidance of our nation and all the nations of the world.

RACIAL STRIKES DENOUNCED BY COX

By News' Special Service.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 28.—"An attempt has been made by our opponents to distract from the issue by setting up racial groups each with a selfish purpose," said Governor James M. Cox in a letter received here by Frank L. Stanton Jr. "To each of these groups something has been promised, without any consideration about the conflicting promises that most serious of all things presented is the attempt to arouse racial hatred. Promises have been made to the Afro-American party which I do not believe the promoters have any intention of carrying out."

"There are some classes of social equality which cannot be. To quote the words of immortal Lincoln: 'We do not want the negroes to be slaves, but that does not mean we want negro women for our wives.' I know of no better way to express the evils in the attempt to array class against class in America."

To get rid of worms in children a burning sensation in the throat and chest means bad digestion; and digestive trouble is the starting point for many serious diseases; particularly kidney diseases. Better take Prickly Ash Bitters and put your stomach and digestion in sound condition before serious trouble begins. Price $1.50 per bottle. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Special Agents.
